

Your building is one of the biggest levers you have for sustainable theatre-making. This summer, Theatre Green Book is running the next three webinars in our Buildings series, to help inspire your next steps.

Biodiversity

17 July

What does biodiversity actually mean for a theatre site? This session looks at how venues are bringing nature back into grounds, roofs, and surroundings, whatever size your building or budget.

Materials for Building and Interiors

14 August

The materials for inside your building matter. Learn what options are out there for sustainable materials, and areas of your theatre fabric who might not have considered in sustainability planning.

Building Structure Case Studies

15 September

Hear directly about venues who've done the work: the retrofits, the listed-building compromises, and the lessons learned.

Free and open to anyone in the performing arts.
